Results for the U.S.

For comparative purposes, the global averages did not account for USA (with the aim of not distorting the overall figure since audiences in the USA will be influenced by a different set of factors etc.). Thus, the results from USA have been given separately as below:

		Q1. If you were to vote in the American election for President, who would you vote for?			Net
		Hilary Clinton	Donald Trump	Don't know / no response	4=1-2
		1	2	3
	United States	48%	41%	11%	7%

Note for Question 2: The U.S did not participate in Q2.

		Q3. Considering that America leads the global economy, should the new American President give priority to the economic interests of the American people, the interests of the people of the world as a whole, or equally to both?				Net	Net
		Interests of American people more than the people of the world	Interests of the people of the world more than just the American people	Equally to both types of interests	Don't know / no response	5=2-1	6=5+3
